GENERAL INFORMATION AND RULES

Responsibilities of The Evergreen Rodeo Royalty include learning about and promoting the Evergreen Rodeo Association as well as the Evergreen community. Contestants are not required to own a horse, but are required to provide a horse to be used during judging.

If you win the title, you will need a horse and trailer for traveling to different rodeos. No stallions are allowed. If for some reason, the queen, princess, or Jr Princess cannot fulfill her duties, the Royalty Committee may appoint an eligible candidate to assume the title.

Contestants shall remain free of any questions involving an issue of morality. This includes social media. Consumption of alcohol or use of tobacco is not allowed while representing the Evergreen Rodeo Association. Use of illegal drugs or involvement in any illegal activity will not be tolerated and will be grounds for immediate disqualification.

OBLIGATIONS

The newly selected royalty court shall be required to appear publicly to represent the Evergreen Rodeo Association immediately after she is crowned.

During her reigning year, attendance will be required at events during the Evergreen Rodeo weekend as well as select parades, promotional events, and outreach/volunteer opportunities.

The Queen, Princess, and Jr Princess will be required to secure sponsorships throughout their reigning year.

DRESS CODE

A felt western hat, crown, western boots, and sash are required for all official events.

Current royalty must look their best while representing the Evergreen Rodeo Association. Some clothing items will be available on loan through the Royalty Closet, but must be returned at the end of reign in the same condition it was received.

Submit completed forms, a 4x6 headshot, and $75 non-refundable application fee no later than May 1st. Make check payable to Evergreen Rodeo Association. Please include contestant name in memo.
